Section heading: "Common Questions from Financial Advisors"

What is financial advisor business coaching? Financial advisor business coaching is structured, ongoing guidance that helps advisors improve how they run their practice — not just their investment strategy. At Getting Results, that means working through five stages: Foundation, Efficiency, Business Growth, Systems, and Leadership, so advisors build a practice that grows predictably instead of one that depends entirely on them.

How is Getting Results different from other advisor coaching programs? Most coaching programs focus only on sales tactics or referral scripts. Getting Results starts with the psychological and personal obstacles that quietly slow advisors down, then layers in the operational systems and leadership skills needed to scale. Our team includes an in-house psychologist alongside coaches with direct experience in the advisory business.

Who is this coaching for? Our coaching is built for financial advisors and their teams — from solo practitioners looking to create more capacity, to established advisors ready to build leadership structure around a growing staff.

How long does the coaching process take to see results? Most advisors see measurable shifts in their business and life within the first 90 days, with the full five-stage process typically unfolding over 12–18 months. For most clients, we become a trusted advisor and they continue their coaching relationship for many years.

What does financial advisor coaching with Getting Results cost? Programs range from $695 to $1,495 per month depending on the level of complexity, practice stage, and goals. Complete a Personal Assessment and we can identify what your needs are and the right program for you.

What is the Slight Edge Accelerator (S.E.A.) Program? The Slight Edge Accelerator is Getting Results' program for advisors looking for significant, compounding growth — built around small, consistent changes that build momentum over time. This program is for any advisor or business owner looking to accelerate their any area of their life.

Do you work with advisory teams, or just individual advisors? While our core work is with individual advisors, we work with individual advisors as well as advisory teams.

How do I get started? The fastest way to start is our free Practice Momentum Scorecard — a 3-minute, 10-question assessment that shows which of the four stages your practice is in right now and identifies the one area most likely holding you back.
